HEALTHY BYTES

ARE YOU FALLING FOR THESE FOOD LABEL LIES?

by SHAPE Magazine

How food-label savvy are you? Although food labels are regulated by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), cutting through the fat (ha!) to understand the fine print can be difficult for even the sharpest of grocery shoppers. Over the next few weeks we’ll take a look at 10 sneaky ways food manufacturers cash in on your healthy intentions:

2. If the label says "100 percent natural" or "all natural..."

You may think buying an "all natural" chicken is better than buying its unlabeled counterpart, but the truth is that "natural" has no legal definition, meaning that companies can stick the phrase on anything they want.

Avoid it: Check the ingredients list and label for what you're most concerned about. "USDA-certified organic" means the food has met certain guidelines. You can also check for genetically modified ingredients (if it doesn't specifically say it's non-GMO and it's corn or soy, then it likely is), artificial colorings and flavors, or preservatives.

Planting seeds of hope...

COMMUNITY SERVICES FOOD PANTRY DISTRIBUTION ON WEDNESDAY—FEBRUARY 22

Our monthly food pantry distribution will take place at the church next Wednesday, 10:00am to Noon. If you are in need of food or know someone who is in need, please contact Printess Schlist (232-1194) and she will make sure that a box of food is prepared.

If you'd like to volunteer your time and help sorting the food on Tuesday or help distributing on Wednesday morning, please let Printess know.

NEW BIBLE STUDY

You are invited to Connect by joining our Bible study small group beginning this Friday, February 17, at 6:30 pm, in the Maroa Room. The group will meet for 90 minutes every Friday for 8 weeks and will be discussing the topic Connecting. We will begin by looking at how God connects with us (mankind). Then integrate the principles we learn in our relationships with others. For questions please call Shelly Clement at (209) 576-5761.

CCC JOB POSTINGS

- ❖ Full-Time Accounts Payable Clerk

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS
Looking forward to where God is leading us.

THE LAST WORD

“At different states in our lives, the signs of love may vary: dependence, attraction, contentment, worry, loyalty, grief, but at the heart, the source is always the same. Human beings have the rare capacity to connect with each other, against all odds.”
