

PASTOR'S NOTES

PASSING OF LAURA WILLIAMS SCHULTE

Laura passed away yesterday, one week after she was involved in a freak automobile accident. She stepped out of her car in her driveway with her two children in her car, when it started to roll down the driveway. In an attempt to stop the car, she fell and was caught under the vehicle. Following the accident, Laura never regained consciousness. She was kept on a ventilator in hopes that she would recover, but that was not to be.

Laura is 33 years old. She is married to Mike Schulte and has two children, Cameryn and Carson.

Laura grew up in Fresno and attended Sunnyside with her parents, Don and Peggy Williams. Many people in our community know Laura and the Williams family, and are devastated by her death. Deanna Clark was best friends with Laura since 6th grade and was with Laura and her family this past weekend. The family requests no phone calls at this time. Once funeral arrangements have been made, we will pass along that information.

UPDATE ON JUDY HAWKINS

On February 12, Judy was involved in a very serious automobile accident on Hwy. 41. She suffered head trauma with bleeding in the brain and the bones in both legs were shattered. Following three weeks of surgery and rehabilitation at Community Medical Center, she was transferred to a hospital in Napa. Her husband, Bill, sent a letter this week stating that Judy is making excellent progress. Her mind is clear and her speech is normal. It will be three more weeks before she can start walking. They are hoping to return to Fresno in six weeks. You can contact Judy at Meadows Convalescent and Rehab Hospital, 900 Atrium Pkwy., Room 101, Napa, CA 94559-4824. Her phone number is 707-320-2101.

A QUOTE SO GOOD I HAD TO PASS IT ALONG

"The best years of your life are the ones in which you decide your problems are your own. You do not blame them on your mother, the ecology, or the president."

HEALTHY BYTES

Oatmeal is rich in protein, fiber, vitamins, and minerals. It also lowers blood cholesterol. The fiber in oatmeal is effective in slowing the absorption of carbs and steadying blood sugar fluctuations. Use real oatmeal, not the instant stuff, which has some of the fiber and the vitamin-mineral-rich bran layer removed.

THE LAST WORD

The Airport by Pastor Cal

So I went to pick up my mum (Aussie spelling) and dad the other day at the airport and we had to wait quite a while at the international arrivals area. It was really cool to see all the different people from all different places coming out of the arrivals tunnel.

I like watching people and imagining their stories as they walk past. One lady commented, "It's almost like being in a zoo!" But it's fun to watch anyways.

I have to say I love the arrivals lounge because it is often a place of joy and reunion, whereas the departure lounge is often a sad place of people saying goodbye, sometimes for a long time.

While I was waiting for my parents to arrive, there were three things that happened that were really cool. The first was this 20ish woman with her friend was walking out of the "tunnel" and up the ramp to the meeting area. As she came up the ramp, she saw her father standing a ways away and said to her friend, "I can't believe it! He's here! My dad is here! I was hoping he would be!" and then she burst into tears of happiness at the sight of him. She walked over to him as quickly as she could and with tears in her eyes gave him the biggest hug ever! It was really cool to see.

The next cool thing to see was a little girl traveling with her mother. As they were walking up the ramp, her mother pointed out her grandpa. Grandpa was beaming and leaning over the edge and waving at the little girl. A huge smile broke out on her face when she saw him and she ran as fast as her little, wobbly legs could carry her up the ramp and into her grandpa's arms; really cute moment.

Perhaps the coolest moment though (apart from when my mum and dad arrived) was when a little boy came out of the tunnel. He looked like he was traveling alone. As he got out of the tunnel a man began waving wildly. His huge smile lit up the entire arrivals lounge. He grabbed the luggage cart he had waiting and started to run alongside the ramp to the arrivals area. When the boy saw his father start to go, he too started running. He ran up the ramp as fast as he could and leapt into his father's arms where they hugged for the longest time.

Three happy, amazing and yes, I'm gonna say it... touching reunions. I can't tell you how cool it was to have my own reunion sometime later when mum and dad came up the ramp too.

It made me think though... How can it be that we have so much joy at the thought of seeing each other and being reunited with each other? It also made me think; how do I feel about being reunited with God? Do I want to run and jump into His arms? Will I be afraid? Will I burst into tears and hug Him? How will I react when Jesus comes?

But there's more to it than that. How do I feel about the idea of His coming? Am I indifferent about it or am I excited about it? Am I like that father waiting at the end of the tunnel to wave at his son and run and grab him in my arms, or am I more like the chauffeur standing holding a sign, waiting for a business transaction?

I want to be like that father and son reunion. But in order to do that, I need to know who my Father is. I need to know His character. Only then can I have the longing and excitement that wells up inside as I'm waiting in the arrivals lounge for Him to come back.

John 14:1-3 "Do not let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God; trust also in me. In my Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am."

God is good, loving, caring, patient and kind. I'm looking forward to Him coming back. How about you?
